

JOIN FELLOW CHRISTIANS for a ten-night Western Caribbean Cruise that leaves from Bayonne, New Jersey, Cape Liberty Cruise Port. By leaving from Bayonne, we avoid the extra day and expenses of flying, enabling us to have more days on the cruise ship for about the same price as our six-night January 2008 cruise. Leaving from Bayonne, New Jersey is a win-win situation.

Schedule

Thursday, January 14, 2010 (times are tentative)

8:00- 8:30 AM – Arrive at Shafer’s, Endicott, NY
8:30 AM – Leave for Cape Liberty Cruise Port, Bayonne, New Jersey

12:30 PM – Arrive at Port/Board Ship/Lunch on Ship
5:00 PM – Explorer of the Seas departs

Even if the weather is “wintry” in January, within a day and a half the ship traveling south will soon be in pleasant, balmy, warm weather for all to enjoy on-deck swimming and other outside activities. Besides, there is plenty to do indoors on the ship during the first and last days of the cruise when the ship is in colder weather. We think the cruise has a great itinerary with the ship docking at each port giving us plenty of interesting sights to see.

We believe the price is quite affordable (prices were locked in during May 2008). If you do any comparisons, please keep in mind that everything is included: tips, fees, taxes, insurance and transfers. Often these expenses are not figured in with other advertised cruises.

Royal Caribbean has a great reputation as a successful cruise line. Our ship, Explorer of the Seas, is bigger than our January 2008 ship, Radiance of the Seas.

It should be a grand ten days of cruising and fellowshiping. Craig and Shirley Golden would love to have you join this group of Christians (mostly from Regular Baptist churches) as they cruise the Caribbean on January 14-24, 2010. Remember – it’s never too early to register.
